DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 5-19 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The “minimum thickness” is not defined, therefore the “maximum thickness” can not be determined. Appropriate correction is required.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The terms "wound like roll" and "maximum thickness" in claim 1 are relative terms which render the claim indefinite. The terms "wound like roll" and "maximum thickness" are not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Matsuda et al (5,725,958).

Matsuda et al. discloses a functional roll film (gas barrier film) comprising a transparent (see col. 1, lines 62-63), plastic film (see col. 2, line 50) having gas barrier properties (see col. 2, lines 37-39) and providing at its least one surface with an inorganic oxide layer (see col. 2, lines 42-45) wherein a maximum thickness of inorganic oxide layer is 1.5 times or less of a minimum thickness (see col. 6, lines 56-60). Regarding claim 2, the inorganic oxide layer comprises a composite oxide matter in which at least two or more kinds of oxide matters are composite (see col. 2, lines 49-53) and a difference between a maximum value and a minimum value of a composition of one component of composite oxide matter is within 20 wt% (see col. 4, lines 21-26 and 39-44).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Matsuda et al. (5,725,958).

Although Matsuda et al. does not explicitly teach the limitations (i.e. static electricity of a plastic film having an inorganic layer ...) of claims 3 and 4, it is reasonable to presume that said limitations are inherent to the invention. Support for said presumption is found in the use of similar materials (i.e. plastic film having gas barrier properties and at least one surface with an inorganic oxide layer which comprises a composite oxide matter in which at least two or more kinds of oxide matters are composite etc... ). The burden is upon the Applicant to prove otherwise. In re Fitzgerald, 205 USPQ 594. Note In re Best, 195 USPQ 433, footnote 4 (CCPA 1977) as to the providing of this rejection under 35 USC 103 in addition to the rejection made above under 35 USC 102.

Regarding claims 3 and 4, Matsuda et al. discloses a plastic film with an inorganic oxide layer having a variation in thickness (see col. 6, lines 56-60) except for the variation in thickness being in the range of  $\pm 20\%$ , and the static electricity of the plastic film being in the range from -10 kV to +10 kV. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have static electricity in the range from -10 kV to +10 kV and to have a variation in thickness in a range of  $\pm 20\%$ , since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch and Slaney, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents are cited for further teachings of films similar to that instantly disclosed.
